Note: The figures include supplemental appropriations, except for 1986. Appropriations for legislative operations only.

Some data from earlier years/previous versions of Vital Statistics have been updated. See errata for more detail.

- a. The figures for 1986 are before Gramm-Rudman-Hollings sequestration.
- b. This category includes such items as joint committees and, until 2003, the Capitol Police. Before 1991, official mail costs were also included in this category.
- c. This includes $106,782,000 for emergency security enhancements funded under the Capitol Police Board's general expenses account, as well as $2 million for the Trade Deficit Review Commission.
- d. The figures for the Architect of the Capitol and the Government Printing Office include appropriations for legislative activities only.
- e. This includes $100 million for construction of a Capitol Visitors' Center.
- f. The commission was abolished after fiscal year 1994. Its duties have been taken over by a Copyright Office panel; therefore, there is no further appropriation.
- g. Library of Congress Figure includes the CRS figure listed above.
